

Include Change Privacy Policy

IncludeChange are committed to protecting our clients' privacy. We keep your information you share with us secure in how we collect, use and maintain it. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect your information and while no data transmission over the Internet is 100% secure from intrusion, we use and will continue to use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure the protection of your information. We continually assess new technology for protecting information and, when appropriate, we upgrade our information security systems.

Your information may mean information such as your name, telephone number, e-mail address, and any other information that would allow someone to identify you or contact you.

The information you provide to us, as well as any information, personal or otherwise, that you create and which may be saved on or in association with our site, is used to provide you with better service. It allows us to save you time and better understand your needs.

IncludeChange do not provide third parties with access to your information. We do not sell or market your information to any third party.

It is also possible that third parties may unlawfully intercept or access transmissions or private communications. Although your privacy is very important to IncludeChange we cannot fully ensure that your information will not be disclosed to third parties.

If you provide us with your email address, we may occasionally send you emails notifying you about our services or other news relevant for you.
